FRANCE

France is the world's fifth largest economy and the second largest exporter of services and has many multinational companies. It's one of the leading providers of International Education. France enjoys a marvellous cultural heritage with a high standard of living as well as a high public and private education level. Its healthcare system is rated as the best in the world and life expectancies as 2nd best in the world. It is a land of Art & Culture with many famous museums to visit. Nearly 2,90,000 international students study in France every year. It's growing in popularity among Indian students. It is also not necessary to know French for post graduate studies as there are several programs taught in English. France devotes almost 20% of its annual national budget to education and many of its elite schools feature in international rankings. Scientific research plays an important role in France.

Worldwide Rankings of France.

- 4th for patents.
- 5th for scientific publications.
- 5th for hosting international researchers.
- 5th for research investment for developing countries.

WHY STUDY IN FRANCE ?

HUB OF EDUCATION

- One of the most sought after study abroad destinations.
- Excellent international career opportunities after graduation.
- Well known for its Elite "Grande Ecole"

AFFORDABLE LIFE

- The Living cost of France is lower than most of the European capitals.
- The Government provides Financial help for accomodation (Upto 1/3rd for students)
- Living in France is relatively cheaper as compared to U.K.
- Its Easy to get lost in sights & sounds of French jet set & haute couture lifestyle.

LEARNING FRENCH IS NOT ESSENTIAL :

- French Grande Ecoles are increasingly using English as medium of Instruction.
- For, students lacking proficiency in French, it is usually taught as a subject in their curriculum during the course time.

RICH IN ART AND CULTURE

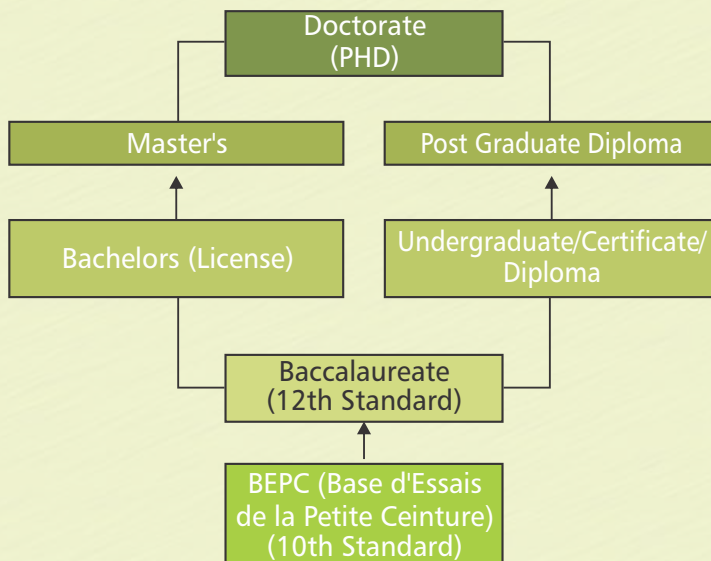

- France is one the most culturally rich countries in Europe with rich flavour of art and tradition.
- France is the number 1 tourist destination in the world.
- France is home to many famous paintings like Monet, Mona Lisa etc.
- French Architecture is unrivalled in the world with its unique style.(Eg: Eiffel Tower, Louvre Museum).

EXCELLENCE IN SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

- In the Information Technology sector, France ranks second in Europe and fourth in the world.
- France is in forefront of technological progress in several fields .
- France is responsible for monitoring and technical management of the European space program Ariane.

FRENCH EDUCATION SYSTEM

The French education system is highly centralized; organized and ramified. It is divided into 3 different stages:

- Primary education
- Secondary education
- Higher education

Primary education:

In France, kids start school very early, school starts of the age of 3 (for almost 100%) and children spend 3 years in kindergarten, schooling is compulsory until the age 16.

Secondary education

In France, secondary education is offered in two stages, namely, BEPC (Based Essais de La Petite Ceinture) and Baccalaureate. BEPC is equivalent to the 10th Std. in India & encompasses secondary school education from 11 to 15 year of age.

Higher education

Higher secondary education from 15 to 18 years of age culminates in a diploma known as the Baccalaureate which is essentially the same as the 12th std. in India. The Baccalaureate is also known as Lycees.

Universities

There are about 90 Public Universities spread throughout the country. They cover the entire range of academic disciplines from the sciences, including Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics and Biology to Technology, Covering Computer Science, Engineering, Material Science and Electrical Engineering through to Literature, Language, the Arts, the Social Science, Law Economics Management Health Sports and more.

Grande Ecoles

The Grande ecoles are uniquely French institutions, created in the early 19th century in parallel to the university system; they are extremely selective and offer education of a very high standard. There are over 300 Grande Ecoles in France covering different subject areas. The fee structure can sometimes be higher but students benefit from smaller class sizes, better support systems and excellent networking (alumni companies and international partners). These can be either Public or Private Institutions or part of both.

POPULAR COURSES

MBA, IT, Engineering, Fashion, Art and Design

Entry Requirements for Masters

MBA: Bachelor's degree, 2 to 3 years work experience, GMAT
Master: Bachelor's degree

* An International student who is enrolled in a French Institution for 1 year or more gets a Student Residency Permit for studying in France and they can apply for government help for their housing allowances which is also known as CAF. This process takes around 1 month and this covers up to 1/3rd of the housing allowance for International students.

HEALTH INSURANCE

International students under 28 years of age enrolled in an educational institution for a program of at least 3 months duration are enrolled in the student segment of the National Health Insurance Plan and above 28 years they have a similar process. An International student must join the social security system to take out an additional cover. In France, the annual cost of such policies runs from Euro 150 to Euro 550. On average social security covers about 70% of the expenses, related to illness. The other advantage is the Social Securities Scheme for students, which reimburses healthcare expenses against a modest basic payment.

WORK PERMIT

Working in France during your studies:

- International students are entitled to work part time upto 20 hours a week off campus. In France there is a guaranteed minimum salary which is €11.65 per hour.

Working in France after your studies

- Students who have earned, at least, a Master's Degree or the equivalent may apply for a one-time (nonrenewable) Temporary Residency Authorization (APS, authorisation provisoire de séjour) valid for 24 months beyond the date of expiration of the student's residency permit. After completion of programme students are eligible to get stay back option. The authorization enables the student to work at any job up to the limit of 60% of the official work week (that is, just over half-time employment).
- Students who obtain a job related to their academic program at a rate of compensation equal to at least 1.5 times the national minimum wage may enter full-time employment by filing a request for change of status (from student to employee) at their prefecture.
- At the end of your studies, you can also be recruited by a company, even if you are not an EU national.
- If you have an aim to come back to India and start your own career here, then your French degree will allow you to avail a circulation visa to France and Europe for 5 years, which will be extended through your life.

The Ministry's programs are of two types

1. Scholarship funds are made available under bilateral assistance programs between France and foreign governments or under an annual scholarship program. More than 80 % of French government scholarships fall into this category.
2. Scholarships for Excellence - Scholarship programs have been set up to enable French institutions of higher education to attract the finest International students.

STUDENT VISA

France has a very simple procedure of Student Visas. Students need to submit their visa documents through online applications for Visa with Campus France. Interview will be taken by Campus France and the documents will be submitted to the Consulate and then the visa is granted.

FAQ'S

1. Is French Language compulsory in France?

No, French Universities are now using English as the language of instruction especially in areas like Management, Engineering, Political Science etc, to attract more international students. It is advisable to learn some French in order to compete with French Students.

2. May I work in France?

International Students may work part time if their timetable permits as long as they are registered at an institution approved by the French social security system. Even first year students coming to France for the first time have the right to work part time, 20 hours per week.
